Title

Cricket - The life model spc

Paragraph

Discipline is an important character to be followed in life to achieve success as said by our elders and this is so true in every domain of our life. We have been said that "nothing is permanent in life", "this too shall pass", "success can't be achieved overnight", "hardwork never fails" and many more.

We know these are all true but we never have the patience to understand them and it's always easier to understand something through experience than through other's words.

I have understood all these since I have started playing cricket. The man who scored a 100 today and gets low score for the next 10 matches and then comes back to his form. Everyone would have some down phase in life, no matter how good they were or how hard they practice now, it's the time that tests our persistence to continue and yeah the results would be achieved one day. And when the bad phase is over, the people who were not with you come back again..... This is what life is..... Oh, sorry I was talking about cricket right? This is what cricket is all about!
